(Samantha Reis: cont'd)

Samantha Reis, a native Nantucketer, just graduated as valedictorian of her class at NHS this year and was one of the winners of the prestigious Nantucket Golf Club scholarship. She wishes to give a farewell Recital for her friends and family before she leaves for college. Samantha has performed both in Nantucket as well as in Spain, where she premiered a composition by Josep Prohens.

Dr. Tinka Knopf, a 13th generation Nantucketer, studied with Julio Esteban and Alicia deLarrocha. among many others. She was the National Vice-President for the Music Teachers National Association, and after various administrative posts, was the Associate Dean of the Peabody Conservatory of the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, MD. She and her husband, Fernando, have "come home", and she now teaches for the NCMC/Nantucket School of Music, as well as lecturing on piano pedagogy throughout the US and Spain.

Suggested donation will benefit educational and financial aid programs for NCMC/Nantucket School of Music.
